NAY BROTHERS—SHOES.

A..... Lady's Shoe Store.

It's been our aim to make this store pre-eminently the resort of ladies in quest of strictly high grade footwear at popular prices. It requires something special to attract trade, so we have always run our as a sort of leader, put more money into it and gave a better shoe than other stores. We find it a better means of advertising to put the extra value right into the shoe. This is a strictly honest method of building and holding trade—has been eminently successful. To-day our business in ladies' $3.00 shoes is very large. Can show you eleven styles on leading lasts to pick from. You may as well have the best—don't you think so?

LADIES' $3.00 SHOE

Coming for Schlatter.

A relative of Schlatter, "the divine healer," is expected to arrive in the city to-day from Kokomo, Ind., and convey the aforesaid out of Wheeling. The "healer" continued to indulge in freely of the ardent yesterday and manifested the same fear of reporters that he did since his arrival. At a news stand he procured a copy of the Intelligencer and a perusal of the account of his escapades jolted him, with the temporary effect of sobering him up, but, unfortunately, he sought recourse in the flowing bowl. He was less prominent, however, than on the preceding two days and he will lay low until he gets out of town.

Card of Thanks.

To W. A. Bennett, Esq., General Supt. Equitable Industrial Insurance Company, of Washington, D. C.:
Dear Sir—Many thanks for prompt payment of claim, amounting to one hundred dollars ($100.00), due me by the death of my husband, John Dick; had only paid to company five dollars and thirty cents, nevertheless had no trouble or delay. I will advise all my friends to insure in the Equitable.
Very respectfully,

AN IMPORTANT MEETING OF CITY COUNCIL

Is to be Held This Evening, Called for Passage of Annual Appropriation Ordinance.

THE LIQUOR MEN WILL PUSH

The Objectionable License Applications Through if They Can Secure a Majority.

Although the call for to-night's special meeting of the city council had not been issued up to a late hour last night, it is assured that the meeting will be held, and if the call is for "general business" other matters than the annual appropriation ordinance can properly come before the body. Councilmen who are averse to licenses would do well to attend the meeting, else these applicants' official friends will be in the majority, and in that event it may be taken for granted that the licenses will be put through with a rush. Opponents of these applicants can prevent granting of the licenses only by the exercise of constant vigilance and regular attendance at meetings of council.

City Solicitor Boyce has completed the annual appropriation ordinance, and it will be the first business up for transaction at to-night's meeting. If, by any mischance, there should not be a quorum to-night, another special meeting will be necessary before the first of June, as the last emergency appropriation ordinance provides only for the month of May.

This morning, the Intelligencer prints an interesting communication from Councilman Ross T. Chew, in which he scores the saloon-assignment houses unmercifully.

COUNCILMAN CHEW SCORES

The Saloon-Assignment Houses Unmercifully and Pointedly. To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

SIR:—The rejected applicants for a license before the city council have the audacity to say they will finally get the necessary license and continue at the old stand, and it looks as if they will.

They were refused a license on the grounds that they were operating assignment houses in connection with their saloons; they one and all appeared before the committee on petitions and remonstrances and admitted they were guilty.

The special committee appointed by the second branch of council asks your assistance in preventing these assignment houses from procuring a license by making public what the committee found to be the state of affairs existing for the past six years. These saloons have a number of stalls and as many bed rooms as they can provide. "Ladies' Entrances" is the label on the hall door, or any door except the front entrance to the saloon proper. Enter this door and you will be confronted by a string of stalls with doors, "but no locks" on them. In these stalls you will find girls, fourteen, fifteen and sixteen years of age, waiting for a "man" to drop in to buy them a drink. If they are new at the business, the proprietors will "jolly" them, as they are money makers for the house. To these lily quirs, served from the bar, ordered by some male visitor, are sold at a good long price, about double the price over the bar.

No "locks" are allowed on the doors of these stalls, for the proprietors have rooms upstairs fully equipped and for the sum of $1 per couple (no difference who you are, a man eighty years of age and a girl of fifteen can register "John Smith and wife," and occupy either of these rooms for twelve hours for the sum named above.

These young girls are the most profitable to the proprietors, as they procure male company more readily than the known prostitutes who are left in the stalls downstairs.

When these young girls are advanced in vice, the proprietors always secure a new supply from this city and nearby towns. The fake hotels are not houses of prostitution; they are 10,000 times worse, for here is where prostitutes are started in the world. Under the pretense of getting a glass of lemonade or beer, girls are invited to enter by a man or boy, through the "Ladies' Entrance" of these hotels (?) with the assurance that no person will see them.

Every man, woman and child should talk to our councilmen and insist on turning down these rejected applicants. The mothers and daughters of councilmen should know who votes for these assignment houses, and if something is not done they will secure their licenses. It is well to know that these "joints" did not have any chance of getting a license at first; since they were refused eight councilmen have been added to their fighting strength, as was shown by the motion to adjourn at the last regular meeting of council.

Our citizens should attend council tomorrow night and see how this crowd manipulates public affairs without any regard for common decency or respect for their homes. ROSS T. CHEW, Member of Investigating Committee Appointed by the Second Branch of City Council.
